Tenured/Tenure Track Faculty Position
Clinical Nurse Leader and Executive Doctor of Nursing Practice Tracks

The Search

The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, School of Nursing invites applications and nominations/recommendations for a full-time tenured or tenure track (12 month) faculty position. The School of Nursing serves a rapidly growing student population of undergraduate, masters and doctoral students for South Texas and the world.

Our dynamic faculty is forging partnerships that offer cutting-edge opportunities for collaboration and programming that position us for national recognition. We lead in excellence in nursing leadership through innovative teaching, quality research, compassionate care and community service. Our vision is to become a national model for inter-professional educational excellence that uniquely prepares graduates for the challenges of today’s health system.

As a major academic health science center in South Texas, we offer doctoral nursing degrees: Post masters DNP and with tracks in Nurse Practitioner Leadership and Executive Management Leader, and PhD as Clinical Nurse Scientist. We currently offer a traditional Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN), an accelerated second degree BSN program for students who have completed a baccalaureate degree in another field, and an alternate entry option for Associate Degree and Diploma RNs to pursue the MSN degree. At the masters level, our graduate program prepares students to be nurse practitioners, clinical nurse leaders, and nurse administrators. Our range of baccalaureate, masters and doctoral programs in nursing are well positioned to help train practitioners leaders and educators for careers in nursing – one of the most exciting and rewarding professions of the 21st century.

We particularly encourage applications from individuals with established teaching, research and practice programs in: Clinical Nurse Leadership and Executive Management and Leadership.
