

Session 3

Creating Pathways: A Multi-Level Educational Outreach Approach to Reducing Health Disparities

Linda Hill, DNSc, CRNA, APN

Farron Kilburn currently serves as the Project Manager for the CRNAs in 3D: Increasing Diversity, Reducing Disparities, and Understanding the Social Determinants of Health federal Nursing Workforce Diversity grant. She has a background as a writer and communications professional. She holds a Masters of Humanities and Social Thought from New York University. Her research interests lie at the intersection of disadvantaged populations, social activism, and health issues.

Ms. Porter currently serves as the Program and Evaluation Coordinator for the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga's School of Nursing on the school's United States Department of Health and Human Services' Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) Grant: CRNAs in 3D: Increasing Diversity, Reducing Disparities & Understanding the Social Determinants of Health (awarded July, 2015). She received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Vanderbilt University, a M.Ed. in Educational Leadership from The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, and currently is a Doctoral Candidate at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga in the Learning and Leadership Doctoral Program. She has served as an adjunct faculty member at UTC since 2009, in both the School of Education and in the Sociology, Anthropology, and Geography Department.

Robin Sturnes is a native of Chattanooga, TN. She received her BS in Education from Austin Peay State University and her Masters in Instructional Leadership from TN Tech University. Robin spent 8 years as an Educator in Title I schools with the Hamilton County Department of Education. She also, severed as an Educational Advisor for the Educational Opportunity Center at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga(UTC). Robin is now the Recruitment and Retention Coordinator for the CRNAs in 3D Grant at UTC.

No handouts provided for this presentation.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---