

Session 1

Innovative CHW Program Empowers Community to Increase Health Literacy and Self-Efficacy

Dr. Rosalinda Jimenez is an Assistant Professor at TTUHSC School of Nursing. Her service in her role includes collaboration with departments of medicine, nursing and pharmacy to create a program utilizing community health workers to promote self-efficacy in the management of chronic diseases. Her research passion lies in qualitative research with a focus in phenomenology.

Dr. Linda McMurry

Dr. Wendy Thal is faculty at the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Nursing in Lubbock, Texas. She teaches in our APRN Graduate program in the Family Nurse Practitioner program. She is active in our school global health initiative leading teams to locations in Nicaragua and more recently to Peru. She is involved at both the local and global level in community health worker programs.

No handouts provided for this presentation.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---