David L. Morgan is a professor of sociology at Portland State University. He received his Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of Michigan, followed by post-doctoral training at Indiana University. Prof. Morgan is a sociological social psychologist, who is widely known for his work on focus groups and mixed methods research. His books include, Focus Groups as Qualitative Research, The Focus Group Kit, and Integrating Qualitative and Quantitative Methods: A Pragmatic Approach.

No handouts were provided for this presentation:

Notes: